Destined to become a favorite go-to neutral, these plaids, stripes and woven textures in Natural, Taupe, Soft Gray, Slate and Charcoal are versatile enough for any style project. The 100 % cotton fabric is the same weight as regular quilting cotton but goes through an additional brushing process to create a two-sided fabric. The brushed side can be used with flannels, brushed cottons and other homespuns and the non-brushed side can be used with designer prints and solids for a modern and traditional quilts. Whichever side you use, these wovens are as functional as solids and any other basic.

Did you know?... In wovens, the threads that run parallel to the selvage are called "warp." The crosswise threads are the "weft."
